Staff Development Policy

Vision:

Pittville School is committed and passionate about supporting the growth and development of its staff. Our staff development programme is designed to motivate and encourage staff to take responsibility for their own continuous professional development as well as providing opportunities for staff to work collaboratively. Development opportunities improve standards and raise morale through professional fulfilment. All staff will have the opportunity to discuss professional needs through our performance appraisal programme as well as through line management channels. Auditing will be used to consider starting points for individual staff and to ensure that whole school staff development in conjunction with individual staff development requests are appropriate.

Staff development is regularly reviewed by SLT in light of the school development plan and is linked to the emerging needs of staff and the school. Staff voice will be utilised and considered in association with school development priorities to identify emerging needs.

Our intent is to develop reflective, confident and progressive teachers resulting in improved experiences and outcomes for our learners.

Aims:

- To ensure that staff development facilitates school improvement and supports school priorities
- To ensure that staff are provided with opportunities for professional development, both collectively and individually
- To develop robust systems for the quality assurance of our staff development provision
- To prepare staff for increased responsibility and career enhancement
- To encourage and nurture effective collaboration between colleagues in order to share best practice
- To encourage staff to take responsibility for their learning and to monitor its impact on students
- 2021-2024 Strategy and Intent:
- Our teaching and learning strategy will underpin whole school staff development, quality assurance processes and performance appraisal in relation to teaching and learning. Alongside teaching and learning our planned content is designed to achieve a balance between pastoral care, personal development and curriculum development.

This three-year teaching and learning strategy will be based on our Pittville Learning Principles:

- CHALLENGE
- EXPLANATION
- MODELLING
- PRACTICE
- QUESTIONING
- FEEDBACK

Our intent is to develop an active dialogue about teaching and learning, and continually develop our passion for teaching.

Focusing on the six principles above will enable staff to share a common language around teaching, encourage teachers to take risks and experiment, challenge all our learners and make every lesson that we teach count.

Staff development over the next three years will look at the principles in turn, staff will be encouraged to share ideas and good practice across the curriculum and branch out to visit other schools. 2021-2022 sees the beginning of a commitment to a whole-school approach that we want all staff to become invested in, and see the benefits of.

The Pittville Learning Principles will feature within our quality assurance cycle. Although they are not always expected to be seen, our cycle will enable us to identify where there is excellent practice in relation to the principles and use this to guide our collaborative staff development across the next three years. Where we have identified excellent practice we shall triangulate against student outcomes to allow us review the success or otherwise of our staff development programme. In addition, we shall use student feedback as an impact measure.

Staff development opportunities:

New staff induction

A full-induction programme to ensure that staff are trained in school systems and are appropriately inducted into their curriculum areas.

Early Career Teacher induction

A full-induction programme in co-ordination with the Balcarras Teaching School Hub with the support of an Induction tutor and a Subject mentor for two years.

Whole-school staff development

Pittville School will provide a calendared programme of internal staff development opportunities each academic year. Staff development will be centred around the school development plan and emerging needs identified through quality assurance and line management processes.

Five days each year are allocated to whole school staff development. Days are calendared in advance with planned content achieving a balance between teaching and learning, pastoral care, personal development and curriculum development. Staff will be asked to evaluate whole-school staff development and review its impact on their practice.

Wednesday afternoons

Curriculum leaders should utilise a proportion of the available curriculum time for staff development. Subject enhancement, KS4 specification knowledge, marking and standardisation experience as well as collaborative mid and long term planning should all be planned for.

External courses and individual staff development

Staff are encouraged to seek and apply for appropriate external personalised professional development opportunities. Where appropriate, staff will be asked to disseminate key outcomes with colleagues. It is anticipated that externally provided professional development will support in the delivery of whole school strategic objectives.

Teaching School Hub

We work closely with our local teaching school hub. All staff development opportunities will be signposted to staff and staff will be encouraged to contribute to the teaching hub programme of professional development.

Learning coaches

Learning coaches will work to support and mentor staff in specialist areas. Staff will have the opportunity to apply to become learning coaches and the work undertaken should align with our teaching and learning principles.

Performance appraisal:

- Performance appraisal target setting should involve conversations around individual professional development requirements for the year ahead. The collation of targets will in part, determine budgeting for staff development.
- Performance appraisal reviews should feature discussions around individual staff development and line managers are responsible for supporting staff in their professional development.
- SLT and curriculum leaders will undertake observations as part of the performance appraisal process, twice a year. Via a 'second observer' scheme, all staff will be given the opportunity to join observations so as to enhance professional development and develop skills around undertaking observations.

New staff induction:

All new teaching staff at Pittville School will participate in a full induction programme which seeks to balance appropriate school-specific training with the opportunity to meet staff and be welcomed into our school community.

Support staff are provided with an appropriate induction by the line manager with responsibility for the appropriate area.

All new staff receive appropriate safeguarding training and resources.

Early Career Teacher Induction:

All ECT'S joining the school will undertake a two-year induction process in line with the Early Career Framework. The Balcarras Teaching School Hub will act as our appropriate body, enabling our ECT's to network across the county. ECT's will have access to one hour of mentoring every two weeks with their subject mentor as well as support throughout the two-year process from the Induction tutor.

The Induction tutor will take responsibility for ensuring that statutory assessments take place.
